

Robin Reynolds with some of her paintings that were featured in a solo show at ArtsWorcester last year. Nick Capasso, the Fitchburg Art Museum director, has described the plein air painter's work as "both technically brilliant and emotionally stunning."

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 81

Reynolds landed a well-received show at ArtsWorcester, one of three solo exhibitions she did last year. The other two were at the Soprafina Gallery in Boston and the Gallery at Somes Sound in Mount Desert, Maine. Her work also has been seen recently at the 84th Regional Exhibition of Art & Craft at Fitchburg Art Museum, Open Call NXNE at Brattleboro Art Museum, and the 50th Anniversary Show at the Prince Street Gallery in New York City.

At the 18th ArtsWorcester Biennial last year, juror Nick Capasso, the Fitchburg Art Museum director, chose one of Reynolds' paintings to receive a Juror's Commendation. There were five commendations handed out for a show that included the work of 46 artists.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 84

Four Seasons

Enjoy a year with the lifestyle magazine of Central MA

WORCESTER Living

Order Today! Call 1-800-922-8200